STORIES WITH GREATITUDE:

"I can roll the wheel chair right into the shower bench, toilet and sink. Gerald can now see the mirror to shave, brush his teeth and comb his hair. It gives him a sense of the old life he had before the injury, and he just smiles." Linda & Gerald Frederick

The Frederick's shower BEFORE

Where there is will there is a wall. Where there is a wall, we need to have willingness.

In 2008, Gerald Frederick was severely injured in a bicycle accident. He experienced a cerebral hemorrhage and catastrophic brain bleed and is now in a wheelchair needing 24/7 care. Linda, his wife, provides this care but their income has changed too.

The physical and financial 'wall's' that the Frederick's were facing can lead people to feel helpless, about everything. Fortunately, they had a willingness to overcome those walls and find resources to help them.

MONTHLY PERSPECTIVE:

Are you an individual we should be thanking?

One of our business practice's is to have GREATITUDE, defined as 'displaying an attitude of gratitude' in our work with each of our customer's and referral partner's.

- We serve courageous individual's.
- We serve individuals who endure hardship.
- We serve caring individuals.
- We serve a community who shows us what GREATITUDE is really all about.

This month we wanted to express to all of our readers, we are grateful for what we have, YOU!
